

Waste segregation

All GEODIS branches are covered by the waste segregation program. The funds obtained through segregation are earmarked for charitable purposes reported by employees.

There are bins for segregation in GEODIS corridors and offices. Baskets with distinctive colours to make segregation easier, and employees have access to segregation instructions in a nutshell.

With the implementation of segregation, the bins located at workstations have been removed. In order to increase commitment to the segregation process, funds obtained from the sale of segregated materials at GEODIS are allocated for social purposes suggested directly by employees.

At GEODIS, we are aware that the more waste is properly segregated, the more money we will collect together for a noble purpose.
